VOLUME CVI.---NO. 26. ALEXANDRIA, VA., TUESDAY EVENING, JANUARY 31, 1905. PRICE 2 CENTS.

"Shut your eyes, open your mouth and see what luck will bring you."

Many a woman is weak and sick, nervous and discouraged. She suffers from headache, backache and other ills. She wants to be well, but all she does is to shut her eyes and open her mouth for medicine and trust to luck for results. She "doctors" month after year, in this same blind, hap-hazard fashion, and receives no permanent benefit.

Women take Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription with their eyes open to the fact that it cures womanly ills. It cures irregularity. It dries debilitating drains. It heals inflammation and ulceration and cures female weakness. There is no trusting to luck by those who use "Favorite Prescription."

"In the year 1903 my health was poor," writes Mrs. J. Hack, of 242 Broadway, Buffalo, N. Y. "I suffered from falling of womb, a disagreeable discharge, painful monthly periods, headache, backache and pains in the limbs. Every month was confined to bed for two or three days. Was weak, nervous and hysterical; life was a burden to myself and I made every one in the family unhappy because I was so irritable. My husband got me four bottles of Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription, and before I had taken the first bottle I was feeling some relief. The medicine made me well and strong, free from nervousness, aches and pain, and I felt like a new woman. Before I used the 'Favorite Prescription' I had been taking another physician's medicine for nearly three months, but had received no benefit. Your medicine is certainly the best in the world."

A man or woman who neglects constipation suffers from slow poisoning. Dr. Pierce's Pleasant Pellets cure constipation. One little "Pellet" is a gentle laxative, and two a mild cathartic. Don't let a selfish seller over-persuade you to accept a substitute for these Original Little Liver Pills, first put up by old Dr. R. V. Pierce over 40 years ago. Much imitated but never equaled.

THE REAL TEST

Of Herpicide Is In Giving It a Thorough Trial.

There is only one test by which to judge of the efficiency of any article and that is by its ability to do that which it is intended to do. Many hair vigors may look nice and smell nice, but the point is—do they eradicate Dandruff and stop falling hair?

No, they do not, but Herpicide does, because it goes to the root of the evil and kills the germ that attacks the papilla from whence the hair gets its life.

Letters from prominent people everywhere are daily proving that Newbro's Herpicide stands the "test of use."

It is a delightful dressing, clear, pure and free from oil or grease.

Bold Address to Czar.

The London Daily Telegraph's St. Petersburg dispatches give the text of a remarkably bold address which has just been voted almost unanimously by the provincial assembly of Kharkoff to Emperor Nicholas, congratulating him on the birth of an heir to the throne and demanding representative government. The signatories include marshals of the nobility, noble men and members of the zemstove who were selected during the incumbency of the ministry of the interior by M. Von Plehve, and who, therefore, are presumably well disposed toward the autocracy.

The address refers to the horrors of war, the military reverses and other clouds hanging over the country, and declares that "long years of bureaucratic oppression and violence, disfranchisement of the people and violation of the freedom of person, thought and conscience, have created a condition of things that is no longer endurable, and which threatens a storm already audible and fraught with bloody civil war to the country and the subversion of your throne."

It appeals to the Emperor to ward off these calamities before it is too late, and no longer trust to negligent, wily servants, but repose his confidence in chosen representatives of the people convoked as a permanent chamber, endowed with legislative powers, and qualified to see that the laws are not broken and that the treasury is not robbed.

For Jamestown Fair.

Three plans—any one or all of which may be adopted—have been formulated in subcommittee and submitted to the House committee on industrial arts and expositions looking to celebrating the founding of Jamestown. The subcommittee made its report yesterday and submitted to the full committee the draft of a proposed bill framed so as to provide the three distinct ways of celebrating. The propositions are:

To hold an international naval, marine and military exposition in the vicinity of Jamestown, in Hampton roads.

To provide for a suitable and permanent memorial commemorating the event.

To authorize the holding under the auspices of the Jamestown exposition committee of an international industrial exposition, with Federal aid and appropriations.

Representative James A. Tawney, of Minnesota, who is chairman of both the full and the subcommittees, stated today day that the subcommittee was chosen to suggest suitable methods of observing the event. A special meeting of the full committee will be held on Friday to consider these suggestions and the draft of a bill which will carry out the ideas of the Jamestown exposition company. It leaves the amount of the appropriation blank to be filled in by the full committee, with the exception of the appropriation of $50,000 for a permanent memorial.

Contents of Alligator's Stomach.

Ajax, the 18-foot alligator and longest specimen ever seen in this part of the country, died at the Cincinnati Zoo a day or two ago after an illness extending over the winter. An autopsy revealed the fact that during the time when the animal sowed wild oats, he had subjected his gastric organs to many extremes as the following list of articles was found within him: One fish hook, 3½ inches long, supposed to be the remnant of a fish eaten in his native Florida bayou; one meteor, weighing 2½ ounces; three teeth of an iron garden rake, held together by the original back brace of iron; seventeen tooth brushes, presumed to have been dropped accidentally into his enclosure when on exhibition at Orando, Fla., and at the Zoo. Three pairs of spectacles, without their lenses; three dollars and eighteen cents in silver and pennies (last of his bank account, according to Superintendent Stephens); nine rubber combs, one door knob, one pair of scissors, one small iron boot jack. Ajax had formerly been the property of an alligator dealer—a woman—at Orlando, Fla., from whom he was purchased two years ago. He was supposed to be about 200 years old.

Complaint of Cattlemen.

Murdo McKenzie, an extensive cattleman of Colorado an Texas, complained before the Senate committee on interstate commerce Saturday of the inequalities, discriminations and poor service on the part of the railroads in the matter of the transportation of cattle. He cited instances of delay in shipments to the markets, saying that such delays often mean the loss of a dollar a head. He admitted that shippers had protection under existing law but said that in most cases the cost of legal proceedings would be greater than the value of the stock. He said the cattleman want power given to the Interstate Commerce Commission not only to fix rates, but to regulate the character of service.

There is one rational way to treat nasal catarrh: the medicine is applied direct to the affected membrane. The remedy is Ely's Cream Balm. It restores the inflammed tissue to a healthy state without drying all the life out of them and it gives back the lost senses of taste and smell. The sufferer who is tried of vain experiments should use Cream Balm. Druggists sell it for 50 cts. Ely Brothers, 56 Warren street, New York, will mail it.

SIC SEMPER TYRANNIS

TUESDAY EVENING, JAN. 31, 1905.

UNANIMOUS decision by the U. S. Supreme Court yesterday in favor of the government and against the beef trust marks probably the most important step yet taken toward trust control in the interest of the general public. No room is left for controversy regarding any of the questions at issue. The beef trust in its organization, in its methods of conducting its business, in the restrictions placed upon the price of live cattle, the restrictions placed upon the price of meat and in its operations as a common carrier is declared a public enemy, outside the pale of the law and subject to such prosecution as the government may decide upon. Every contention made by the government against the beef trust is affirmed by the court, and the hands of the government have been strengthened to such a degree that immediate proceedings against the trust magnates as criminals can be instituted, and be followed by similar proceedings against all the other giant combinations which stand as a menace to public welfare if those in whose hands the matter rests will but do their duty. Judge Grosscup, who issued the injunction, states that the opinion probably will aid in bringing corporate ownership within the reasonable confidence of the people, but the packers say they will not be affected, "because they do not violate the injunction." The law officers of the government should see that they do not.

THE POLITICAL sensation of the week in Maryland is contained in the answer of Congressman-elect Thomas A. Smith, democrat, to the charges made by Congressman Jackson, republican, of the First district, said charges forming a part of the documents in his contest for the seat. Mr. Smith makes direct charges of bribery on the part of Congressman Jackson to offset the former's allegation of intimidation and the use of trick ballots. The documents filed in the contest make it certain that the republicans' cry of "fraud" is but a trick to steal another congressional district which will be exposed and made clear to all fair minded men. In his answer Mr. Smith says:

I am credibly informed, believe and charge that you expended large sums of money in every county of the First congressional district to bribe voters who were otherwise inclined to vote for me, either to stay at home or to so deface their ballots as to destroy them; and to that end you employed in each county an executive committee to distribute your corruption fund. I am prepared to give the names of the men forming such committees. While I may have gained some votes because of the illiteracy of a certain class of voters who are supporters of yours, I lost many more because of your unlawful and criminal corruption and bribery of voters who were inclined to vote for me.

ACCORDING to a report just made public by United States Commissioner Alexander, the total amount, of claims growing out of the burning of the excursion steamboat General Slocum at New York last summer, when about 1,000 lives were lost, is $1,475,673. The Slocum was raised and the hull sold for $1,600. Liability of the owner of the wrecked vessel is limited to the value of the hull, cargo and engines after the wreck has been raised. So of couse the claimants will get nothing.

PRESIDENT CASTRO, of Venezuela, has not only broken off negotiations with the American Minister, but has done the same with the representatives of the European powers. This action followed the refusal of the American government to entertain Venezuela's plans for arbitrating the claims against the asphalt trust. President Castro seems not to be afraid of President Roosevelt's big stick.

EVEN were spring to begin tomorrow we will have had full three months of real winter, the cold weather having set in in earnest at the commencement of last November. But we have February and March yet to encounter.

THE average daily proceedings of Congress are now so uninteresting that frequently the large dailies, published outside of Washington, devote less than twenty lines to such proceedings.

From Washington.

[Correspondence of the Alexandria Gazette.]

Washington, D. C., Jan. 31.

It is reported here that the administration may decide to make some criminal prosecutions of members of the beef trust. When the Supreme Court yesterday sustained the injunction of the federal court of the northern district of Illinois, in such conclusive style, restraining Swift and Company, the Armours, the Hammond Packing Company, the Cudahy interests and others from maintaining agreements in restriction of competition in the various branches of the industry, all the way from beating down the purchase price of stock on the hoof in the west to assessing abnormal cartage rates in eastern cities and shoving up the price of dressed beef to dealers held in line by an oppressive credit and blacklist system, the terminology of Justice Holmes's opinion had in it a note of warning to the packers that criminal prosecutions could follow. Justice Holme's in overriding the charge of multifariousness made by the packers against the bill asking the injunction said that "the scheme alleged is so vast that it presents a new problem in pleading," and immediately added that "its size makes the violation of the law more conspicuous and yet at the same time makes it impossible to fasten the principal fact to a certain time and place. The first section of the Sherman anti-trust law reads: "Every contract, combination in the form of trust or otherwise, or conspiracy in restraint of trade or commerce among the several states or with foreign nations, is hereby declared to be illegal. Every person who shall make any such contract or engage in any such combination or conspiracy shall be deemed guilty of a misdemeanor, and on conviction thereof, shall be punished by a fine not exceeding $5,000 or by imprisonment not exceeding one year or by both, said punishments in the discretion of court." The act also provides for equity proceedings to enjoin such combinations, contracts and conspiracies, under which the injunction yesterday was obtained. While generality of charges will support equity proceedings where a conviction under criminal proceedings might not be obtained, more particular proof of time and place of violations of the law being necessary in the latter, it is reported that the President and the Attorney-General are seriously considering prosecutions of the packers. District Attorney Bethea, who engineered the injunction proceeding in Chicago, was were very recently and conferred with the President and Attorney-General Moody, at which time it was suggested the subject of prosecution of the packers was under consideration. In the light of the Supreme Court's decision, it seems much more probable that such an undertaking will be thought feasible. Individual officers of the corporations which made the beef trust would probably not be affected. The law states that the word "person" or "persons" in the act shall be deemed to include corporations, so that if for instance the Hammond Packing Company were prosecuted and convicted, about the only punishment which could be imposed would be a fine. It is not probable that any one would be sent to jail.

Your correspondent is authorized to announce that the administration is preparing to prosecute the officials of the "beef trust" criminally, if possible, and civilly if they cannot be haled into the criminal tribunals for contempt of court. Although Attorney General Moody does not feel at liberty to announce his future programme in the premises this decision may be taken as official. A prominent western Senator who is very close to the President made the announcement this afternoon. "Of course" he said, "the beef trust men will probably change their tactics as soon as they can. The decision handed down by the Supreme Court will probably make them bestir themselves to alter the way they conduct their business. If they do the government will have to collect new evidence. But that will not be a difficult proceeding. Testimony of the the most convincing nature will be forthcoming when the Department of Justice needs it. The agents of the Bureau of Corporations have any amount of it at hand already. As long as the packers control the market, just so long will they continue to furnish the evidence that the government is after."

The President is pleased with the decision of the United States Supreme Court in the beef trust case and does not hesitate to speak of it in enthusiastic terms.

Ex-Senator William E. Mason, of Illinois, was one of the callers at the White House this morning. "We were talking about the situation in Missouri," said Mr. Mason, "and I told the President that the republican party in that State was in a good deal the same frame of mind as the brother, who after being left the farm, was sued by the boy who was cut off in the will. One day the brother came home from court very much discouraged and said to his wife: 'We are in pretty bad straits, my dear. For four years we have been defending our title to this farm from that rascally brother of mine, and now we are just about dead broke. Every cent that we have taken out of the place has gone for lawyer's fees and costs; all our horses are gone; all our cattle and hogs have been sold; the corn is pretty low in the bin, and the bottom of the pork barrel is all that you can find in the brine. I'm gettin' so discouraged that I almost wish dad hadn't died.'"

As a reply to the message from the President denouncing the present corporation law of the District of Columbia, sent to Congress yesterday, the Senate today passed without amendment to House bill increasing the corporation fees from $1 a charter, to forty cents on each thousand dollars of capital stock, and giving the Recorder of Deeds discretion to refuse any application for charter where he is not satisfied that the capital stock has been subscribed in good faith. The House committee on interstate and foreign commerce today authorized a favorable report on the Mann bill abolishing the present Isthmian Canal Commission and authorizing the President to appoint a new commission in accordance with the needs of the situation as it may appear to him. Mr. Adamson of Georgia gave notice that he would probably submit a minority report.

After a legal war of more than a year and a half, August W. Machen now faces final capitulation to the inevitable. This will come in the shape of a mandate of the Supreme Court of the United States, directing that the judgment of the Supreme Court of the District of Columbia, affirmed by the District Court of Appeals, be carried to execution. The judgment of Justice Pritchard, based on a verdict of guilty after a seven weeks trial, was that Machen, Dr. Lorenz, of Toledo, former postmaster of that city, and the Groff brothers, of Washington, should serve two years each in the Moundsville, W. Va., penitentiary at hard labor and pay fines of $10,000 each. While the lawyers of the defendants might stave off the departure or their clients for prison for a few days, they will not try it. Inside of a week at least the formalities will be concluded and the prisoners will surrender to the United States marshal and be taken to the penitentiary.

Dr. Ingram N. W. Irvine has brought against him.

The Senate Interstate Commerce Committee yesterday heard E. M. Ferguson, of Duluth, representing fruit growers and shippers' associations, on the injustice of private car service. He said discriminating rates are charged for private cars, and that refrigerating charges are imposed whether ice is required or not. The law is violated with impunity. Many railroads, he declared, have their own private cars and others use only those of the Armour trust. Any amount paid the Armour in excess of a reasonable rate is in the nature of a rebate and arranged to evade the law.

State Chairman Ellyson is not one of those who believe that the Ninth district of Virginia is hopelessly lost to the democrats, despite the fact that Colonel Slemp carried it in the recent campaign by an unprecedented majority. THE LATE JUDGE KEILEY.

The death in Paris of Judge Keiley, of Virginia, the result of being run over by a cab, was mentioned in yesterday's Gazette.

Anthony M. Keiley first came into national prominence through his nomination by President Cleveland in 1885 as minister to Italy. His appointment was canceled on account of the objections of the Italian government. He was then accredited by President Cleveland as minister to Vienna, but the Austrian government also declared Mr. Keiley to be persona non grata, the first objection being that he held ultramontane views that were offensive to a friendly government. This ground was not satisfactory to an influential circle in Austria, and it was then alleged that his Catholicism was lax, from which charge he was warmly defended by the administration at Washington. Secretary Bayard addressed a note to the Austrian government in which he commented on the unreasonableness of race and religious distinctions.

The Secretary even went so far as to say that the appointment would be allowed to stand, even though it resulted in a cessation of diplomatic relations between the United States and Austria. To relieve the administration of President Cleveland of further embarrassment Mr. Keiley resigned, and later was appointed to the international court at Cairo. He resigned in April, 1902, owing, it was understood, to the death of his wife. His record in Cairo was distinguished by ability.

Mr. Keiley was associate editor of the Norfolk Virginian, and afterwards edited the Index-Appeal, of Petersburg. He was Mayor of Richmond for one term, and was afterwards chosen district attorney of that city.

Judge Keiley was the author of two works—"The Falling Flag," being an account of the Confederate retreat from Petersburg to Appomattox, and another entitled "In Vinculis," which gives an account of his imprisonment at Elmira, N. Y.

Judge Keiley married Miss Rebecca Davis, the daughter of Geoge Davis, of Petersburg. She died about two years ago in Cairo. Three children survive Judge Keiley—George Keiley, of New York; Russell Keiley, of Norfolk, and a daughter, Mrs. Hall, wife of Captain Hall, of the British army.

His sister, Miss Ellen Keiley, lives in Richmond. One brother (the Right Rev. Benjamin Keiley) is bishop at Savannah, and the other (William Keiley) is a resident of New York.

Judge and Mrs. Keiley, during their residence in Richmond, entertained handsomely, and their home was a center of culture and refinement. Judge Keiley frequently contributed articles to the Richmond papers and was a writer of considerable merit. He was a devout Catholic and was a member of St. Peter's Cathedral. During recent years he had lived quietly in Piccadilly, London.

Today's Telegraphic News

The Troubles in Russia.

St. Petersburg, Jan. 31.—No exciting incidents are reported anywhere this morning. Sporadic disturbances continue, but they are cohesionless and spiritless. There is still a great danger of the troubles at home having an effect on the troops at the front. An officer with General Kuropatkin writes that the troops at the seat of war are greatly disheartened since the fall of Port Arthur, and have lost all enthusiasm in a continuance of the war. In view of their disheartened condition, the officers do not deny that the effect on the minds of the reservists, if the complete story reaches them, would probably be most serious. It is stated, from a trustworthy source, that Russia was really ill-prepared had a real national revolution occurred. Owing to the friendliness of Germany, the western frontier has been virtually barred of troops and artillery of the first class. The fortress at Kovno is almost defenceless, the men and equipments having for the most part gone to the far east. In other centres a like condition exists, so that had a serious situation arisen Russia would have found it most difficult to cope with it. One hundred and thirty thousand strikers have returned to work. Several hundred of those who have been arrested since the trouble started, have been released after having been flogged. The number of stripes inflicted varied from fifty to two hundred. In the provinces these arrests continue. A dispatch from Sevastopol states that 900 have been arrested there.

Governor General Trepoff is tightening the restrictions on the press correspondents who telegraph stories of the disturbances to foreign points.

The strike is spreading at Tiflis, in Caucasia. The printing works have stopped and other trades are affected. The authorities at Tiflis have discovered a plot among certain Americans to organize a rebellion throughout the Caucasus.

London, Jan. 31.—Count Leo Tolstoi, the eminent Russian author, has sent the following message in reply to a request from your correspondent for his opinion on the Russian crisis: "It would be useless for me to attempt to answer you in a few words, and I have not the time to prepare an extended statement."

Frankfort, Germany, Jan. 31.—Prince Kaudechew of Russia in an interview today said the Russian government would fulfill all its promises and would inaugurate a reform at an early date. M. Witte, the present Russian councilor, he said, is at present seriously occupied with a commission which is preparing the necessary measures, including a reduction of hours of labor for the workmen. In Russia, the prince added, such reforms cannot come suddenly, and hence it will be some little time before reforms contemplated can be carried out.

Copenhagen, Jan. 31.—The newspaper Politiken has a dispatch from St. Petersburg which states that relations between Minister of the Interior Prince Mirsky and Governor General Trepoff, of St. Petersburg, have become so strained that the former's resignation is most imminent.

Civil War in Warsaw.

Berlin, Jan. 31.—The Zeitung this morning reports that a condition of civil war exists in Warsaw, Russia. The rebels have erected barricades. Hundreds of shops have been plundered. The rebels have wrecked the telephone exchange and have poured petroleum in the streets by the ton, which they have set afire. According to the correspondent complete anarchy prevails. A woman posted on a balcony in front of her house picked off with her rifle the Cossacks who were trying to drive the strikers from the streets. A Cossack finally shot the woman, but his own life paid the penalty. The mob pulled him from his horse and beat and kicked him to death. Fighting around the barricade continued during the night. In one section, at Izetochowa, the rebels are masters of the situation. The police have fled. Huge placards have been posted announcing the establishment of a revolutionary municipal regime.

Warsaw, Jan. 31.—The chief of police is taking most stringent measures to prevent a recurrence of yesterday's disorders. Among other things, he has put a ban on all visiting, and has closed the entrances to all private houses except to their regular residents. Two regiments of infantry and two regiments of dragoons have arrived to aid the troops already here. There were many casualties yesterday in collisions between the strikers and the troops.

St. Petersburg, Jan. 31.—An official dispatch from Warsaw confirms the reports of serious collisions between the troops, police, and strikers there yesterday. There were numerous casualties.

Steamer Ashore.

Amsterdam, Jan. 31.—The British steamer Alba, from Newport News, Va., is ashore at the Zandvort. Assistance has been sent her. A heavy storm is prevailing and seas are sweeping over the steamer. It is feared that unless the sea goes down, her position will become most dangerous. The Alba's position has become most critical. Efforts are being made to save her crew, but the work of rescue is most difficult owing to a terrific gale which is blowing.

Operation for Appendicitis.

London, Jan. 31.—Sir Frederick Treves this morning operated on Princess Victoria, King Edward's daughter, for appendicitis, at Buckingham Palace. The princess is progressing very satisfactorily. The Princess Victoria is King Edward's third child. She was born at Buckingham Palace on July 6, 1868. The princess has never married, though reports on several occasions have had her betrothed to members of foreign royal families.

Deafness Cannot be Cured

by local applications, as they cannot reach the diseased portion of the ear. There is only one way to cure deafness, and that is by constitutional remedies. Deafness is caused by an inflamed condition of the mucous lining of the Eustachian Tube. When this tube is inflamed you have a rumbling sound or imperfect hearing, and when it is entirely closed, Deafness is the result, and unless the inflammation can be taken out and this tube restored to its normal condition, hearing will be destroyed forever; nine cases out of ten are caused by Catarrh, which is nothing but an inflamed condition of the mucous surfaces.

We will give One Hundred Dollars for any case of Deafness (caused by catarrh) that cannot be cured by Hall's Catarrh Cure. Send for circulars, free.

Bomb-throwing in Paris.

Paris, Jan. 31.—The bomb-throwing which followed the anti-Czar meeting at Tivoli Vauxhall last evening, while it did not result fatally nor disastrously, has caused widespread alarm, as it is feared it presages possible terrorist attempts to evince the most violent opposition to the Czar's policy. A special edition of Eclair printed this morning says the bomb outrage prefaces events which are destined to destroy the country's peace and show a return to anarchist terror. Twelve persons were arrested in connection with the outrage. Of these six have been retained in prison who are known to be anarchists. Those held are M. Francois and his wife, Antonio Barbe, Paul Blun, M. Antourville and M. Rouiller. No deaths have occurred from the explosion of the bomb and those injured are rapidly improving. The bomb was thrown just as the crowds who had been attending the meeting at Tivoli Vauxhall were leaving. The bomb was hurled into a group of policemen and republican guards. M. Lepine, the prefect of police, and other officials were standing with the civilians. No one was hurt. The bomb, which was loaded with bootnails, contained a strong explosive, as the concussion was so great that all the windows for some distance from the spot, were broken. The meeting which was followed by the bomb throwing was an immense one, attended by 6,000 persons. The speakers included several deputies and Professor Tempoff, who was one of Father Gopon's tutors in college. The meeting was most enthusiastic and the Czar and his officials were subjected to harsh tirades. This was the second bomb attempt yesterday. During the afternoon a bomb was found in front of the home of an attache of the Russian legation. The fuse was burning, but was extinguished by the police before the explosion occurred.

War in the East.

London, Jan. 31.—Baron Hayashi, the Japanese minister, this morning, gave out a dispatch received from Field Marshal Oyama in which the Japanese commander gives additional details of the fighting to the south of Mukden. In the course of his report Field Marshal Oyama says the number of Russian corpses left on the field since Jan. 25, in the direction of Litajenton, Shenchiepau and Heikotai, are not less than 1200.

St. Petersburg, Jan. 31.—A message from Sachstun, to the southeast of Mukden, states that a Japanese attack on Landeango has been repulsed. The Dagestan regiment following up the retiring Japanese made an attack upon them, but were driven back by shrapnel and rifle fire. The message adds that of 10,000 Russian casualties from Wednesday to Saturday last week, the per centage of dead will be small. Three hundred Japanese have been taken prisoners.

Tokio, Jan. 31.—The Japanese have captured the British steamer Wyefield, bound for Vladivostock with contraband of war.

Fires.

Camden, N. J., Jan. 31.—Fire broke out at 8:30 o'clock this morning in the record building of the Victor Talking Machine Company, this city, and is still burning fiercely. This building is about half a block away from the company's big plant which was destroyed by fire about eight months ago. The building contained valuable records, all of which were destroyed. The loss is estimated at $25,000. During the panic, when the employes had to fly for their lives, two girls fainted but were carried out in safety. The building was completely destroyed.

Philadelphia, Jan. 31.—While a small fire, cause by an upset oil stove, was burning in his home, at midnight, Lewis Lutz, aged 68, of 1354 north Lawrence street, dropped dead from excitement. William Wingarten, aged 47, was slightly burned extinguishing the flames.

A man and a woman, carbolic acid victims, were found locked in each other's arms. The dead man was identified today as Frederick Tebo, a stage hand, 37 years of age, and the woman is believed to have been his wife, aged 30. It is believed the couple died yesterday evening, following a quarrel, which was heard by neighbors.

New York Stock Market.

New York, Jan. 31.—In this morning's stock market the dominant feature was the renewal of extraordinary strength in the group of Vanderbilt stocks, and the stocks of those lines west of Chicago which have for a long time been closely identified with the eastern Vanderbilt system. These movements exerted a stimulating effect on the speculation throughout the railway list which had before the first hour gained a point or more. In the industrial group the steel stocks were firm. The market made further advances in the second hour and the feature continued to be liberal absorption of the high grade investment issues. The market has made exceptionally large advances.

Stocks and Peace Rumors.

London, Jan. 31.—The securities market was unusually firm today, Japanese bonds being the feature. This strength was attributed to vague rumors of impending peace in the far East. While there was no definite news to confirm this, there has been buying on the assumption that Russia has become anxious to conclude peace at the first opportunity. Japanese fives sold from 95 to 96, while fours ranged from 80 to 80½.

Special Announcement.

The Philadelphia Record will publish a supplement with its Sunday dition of February 5th which will be the most novel, interesting and instructive ever given away by a Philadelphia newspaper. This novelty, so baffling to science, consists of an apparently blurred picture and the plastograph or "Magic Spectacles." Upon properly adjusting the wonderful spectacles in accordance with the directions and looking at the picture at the proper focus, a result, entertaining and interesting, will be at once produced. Save the pictures as "The Record" will continue this supplement indefinitely, giving its readers an opportunity of collecting a novel and entertaining series. THE PHILADELPHIA SUNDAY RECORD

THE PRESIDENT'S SPEECHES.

The President made two speeches yesterday, one before the Naval Academy Cadets, at Annapolis, and one in Philadelphia before the Union League. In his Annapolis speech he said:

"Of all baseless figments of a disturbed imagination, the cry of militarism in this country is the most foolish and most baseless. * * * The danger is lest we do not take sufficient thought in preparing the men and material which will make our attitude in claiming to be a great nation respectable. I would be sorry to see us content to assume the position of a nation unwilling and unable to play a great part in the world, unable to hold its own in the shock of arms, should it ever be necessary, which I most earnestly hope that in the lifetime of no man here present will it be necessary. If this country believes in the Monroe doctrine; if this country intends to hold the Philippines; if it intends, besides building, to police the isthmian canal; if it intends to do its duty on the side of civilization, on the side of law and order, and that duty can be done only by the first man armed; if this country intends to do that, then it must see to it that it is able to make good, if the necessity arises to make good. What we desire is to have it evident that this nation seeks peace, not because it is afraid, but because it believes in the external and immutable laws of justice and of right living."

In his Philadelphia speech he said:

"Unquestionably the great development of industrialism means that there must be an increase in the supervision exercised by the government over business enterprises. This supervision should not take the form of violent and ill-advised interference; and assuredly there is danger lest it take such form if the business leaders of the business community confine themselves to trying to thwart the effort at regulation instead of guiding it aright. Neither this people nor any other free people will permanently tolerate the use of the vast power conferred by vast wealth, and especially by wealth in its corporate form, without lodging somewhere in the government the still higher power of seeing that this power, in addition to being used in the interest of the individual or individuals possessing it, is also used for, and not against the interests of the people as a whole. No finallly satisfactory result can be expected from merly State action. The action must come through the federal government. The business of the country is now carried on in a way of which the founders of our Constitution could by no possibility have had an idea. We do not intend that this republic shall fail as those republics of olden times failed, in which there finally came to be a government by classes, which resulted either in the poor plundering the rich or in the rich exploiting and in one form or another enslaving the poor, for either event means the destruction of free institutions and individual liberty."

CONGRESSIONAL.

The Senate yesterday agreed to vote on the joint statehood bill before adjournment on Tuesday, the 7th of February, the amendments to be considered on that day under the ten-minute rule. Mr. Teller spoke during the day in opposition to the bill, and several minor bills were passed.

After a protracted debate, the House adopted the conference report on the legislative, executive, and judicial appropriation bill. As agreed to, the bill carries an appropriation of $29,132,242. Discussion of the report was precipitated by Mr. Bartlett, of Georgia, who objected to an agreement by the conferees regarding certain increases in salaries after the House had emphatically disapproved them. He was supported by Messrs. Robinson, of Indiana, and De Armond, of Missouri, both of whom charged that the House had surrendered its dignity, rights and power to the Senate. Messrs. Littauer, of New York, and Livingston, of Georgia, two of the conferees, defended their action. The postoffice appropriation bill was taken up, and its consideration had not been concluded when the House adjourned.

In messages to Congress the President urges that the Census Bureau secure statistics with a view to strengthening of the marriage and divorce laws, and the better regulation of corporations in the District of Columbia.

Do Not Suppress a Cough.

When you have a cough do not try to suppress it, but remove the cause. The cough is only a sympton of some disease, and the disease is what you should cure, then the cough will stop of itself. The most common cause of coughing is a cold. Anodynes will promptly suppress the cough, and preparations containing chloroform, opium, etc., are used for that purpose, but they do not cure the cold. Chamberlain's Cough Remedy on the other hand does not suppress the cough, but relieves it by removing from the throat and lungs the mucus which obstructed the breathing and allaying the irritation and tickling in the throat. It also opens the secretions and effectually and permanently cures the cold as well as the cough. For sale by Gibson & Timberman and W. F. Creighton & Co.

The Electric Railway.

Another report was circulated in this city today to the effect that the electric railway had been sold to new parties but the source of the report could not be ascertained.

The following appeared in one of the Washington newspapers of Sunday which, however, is in direct conflict with that which appeared in another paper of that city on the same day:

"The Pennsylvania Railroad has not sold its interest in the Washington, Alexandria and Mount Vernon Railway nor does it intend to do so, though there is some kind of a reorganization on foot of which the officers of the company are making considerable mystery. President Clarence P. King, of the electric company, whose headquarters are in Philadelphia, arrived in the city yesterday to attend to the transfer of the stock bought two days ago from several of the residents of Alexandria. This transfer was made early in the day at the Washington offices of the company. Later Mr. King went to the New Willard Hotel, where he held consultations with the local attorneys of the company and several acquaintances. When asked point blank if the Pennsylvania had decided to get out of the electric company, Mr. King laughed and replied that there was no truth in such a report. He said, however, that there is to be a reorganization of the company before long, for the purpose of improving the service. The larger stockholders are buying up the holdings of some of the smaller fry, who seems to think that because the company has lost between $15,000 and $20,000 in business, through the closing of St. Asaph poolroom, there will be no more dividend paying by the company. President King declined to discuss the proposed reorganization, but said he would make a statement later."

A Strange Experience.

Mr. William T. Emerson, the florist, had a strange experience late last Tuesday evening as the snow which was the advance guard of the blizzard that struck this section that night began to fly. Mr. Emerson was in the lane separating Bethel Cemetery from that of M. E. Church South and was proceeding north when he distinctly saw a horse and buggy in which some persons were seated appear at the west end of Douglass Cemetery. The buggy was proceeding west, and when in front of the tool house of Christ Church graveyard it stopped. The occupants, however, did not alight, but immediately started the fix in a westerly direction, toward the gate of the National Cemetery, but a few yards away. When Mr. Emerson reached the end of the lane he looked in every direction for the buggy. The gates of the cemeteries on the north and south were closed, and Capt. Davis, superintendent of the National Cemetery, told him that he had seen no buggy, although the captain was standing on his porch at the time Mr. Emerson was positive he saw it but a few yards away. The latter is by no means a believer in the occult, nor in spooks, witches, genii nor fairies, but he is at a loss to know where the horse, buggy and occupants went, as there was but one road out of the place in which he saw them, and that leads due east.

Corporation Commission.

As has heretofore been stated, the State Corporation Commission will sit in this city Thursday at 11 a. m., to hear complaints against the service provided by the electric railway. The complainants will be represented by City Attorney Gardner L. Boothe, on behalf of the City Council, and Mr. Leo P. Harlow, counsel for the Alexandria and Washington Commuters' Association, and Mr. R. Walton Moore will, it is thought, appear for the railway company. There will probably be three sittings by the commission—from 11 a. m. to 1 p. m.; from 2 to 4 p. m., and one beginning at 8 o'clock at night. When the commission went to Mr. J. S. Beach, clerk of the Corporation Court, they stated that they would probably occupy the court room for a day or two and would send their bailiff, Capt. J. W. Williams, to make all arrangements for the session, but up to this evening Capt. Williams had not arrived. He will probably reach this city tomorrow.

Cold Weather.

The temperature last night and early this morning was lower than at any time during the present winter. At 2 a. m. the mercury stood at 2°. At daybreak it was down to zero at several places in Fairfax and Alexandria counties. In this city at dawn the mercury was down to 4°, but as the day advanced it gradually rose. There was much frost in the air, and trees and telegraph, telepone and electric wires were covered as with snow. The river was sealed, nothing having passed up or down since early in the night. The ice was about six inches thick in the channel, while on the opposite flats sheets had mounted sheets and piled up as glaciers. The Baltimore and Ohio Railroad transfer service between this city and Shepherd's has been temporarily suspended. The steamer Washington of the Norfolk line, due here at 6:30 this morning, did not arrive until 12:20 this afternoon.

The mercury at 3 o'clock this evening registered 38°, and then began to fall gradually.

Preparing for Twenty-second.

The executive committeee of the George Washington Birthday Association will meet in the Friendship engine house tonight for the purpose of making arrangements for the celebration of the 22d of February. From present appearances there will be no general parade on that day, for the reason that the inauguration of a President takes place this year, and the ceremonies following so closely in the wake of the anniversary of the birth of Washington, it has been generally agreed to omit the parade feature on the 22d. The day will, however, be observed by banquets which will be given by different organizations.

Corporation Court.

[Judge L. C. Barley presiding.]

William Chauncey vs. Metropolitan Life Insurance; case continued till March term.

Police Court.

There were several cases on the docket of the Police Court this morning. The parties were charged with misdemeanors, but for want of proper evidence all were dismissed. The following were the cases: Patrick Buckley, arrested by Officer Young charged with vagrancy; Edward Tate, Robert Harris and George Hobday, all colored, arrested by Officers Arrington and Roberts on suspicion of stealing money from Kate Wanzer, and Jennie Nelson, colored, arrested by Officer Sherwood charged with disorderly conduct.

The law creating the office of Police Justice has been in effect one year today. During the year there have been 1,880 cases brought before the court, as follows: White men, 796; white women, 55; colored men, 747, colored women, 282. Of this number 602 were discharged; 291 committed to jail and the workhouse; 33 committed for the grand jury and the remaining number fined. Among many minors, white and colored, 18 were thrashed in the station house, and 2, both colored, were sent to the reform school. The total revenue to the city in fines amounted to $4,136.40, the month of August leading with $640.50, while January netted but $132. During the year the expense to the city for board of prisoners at the jail was $655.05; during the year prior thereto it was $839.30. Fines for the State amounted to about $200. It is a noticeable fact that the arrests for drunkenness, fighting and disorderly conduct have decreased 60 per cent. since Judge Barley, with the assistance of the police, closed all music halls connected with bar rooms.

Personal.

Miss M. Blanche Rotchford left this city on Saturday for a two weeks engagement in Baltimore. While there she will be the guest of State's Attorney and Mrs. Chas. P. Cleaveland.

Mr. Andrew Sullivan continues extremely ill at his home on north Royal street.

Mr. Matthew Hobson, formerly of this city, but now of Washington, was paralyzed a few days ago.

Death of Mrs. Offutt.

Mrs. Rosanna Offutt died suddenly Sunday of heart trouble at her home, near Potomac, Montgomery county, Md., aged 69 years. Deceased was formerly a Miss Jackson, sister of Capt. James W. Jackson who killed Colonel Ellsworth for attempting to take down a Confederate flag from the Marshall House in Alexandria at the opening of the civil war.

Nocturnal Trespassers.

Several persons living in the western portion of the city have recently discovered strange men on their premises. The trespassers generally appear after dark, and when discovered make their escape. A lady found a strange man in her woodshed a night or two ago. She was too frightened to notice whether he was white or black.

Benefit.

On Monday, February 20, a benefit will be tendered Mr. Wayne Byers at the Opera House at which time the drama, "Ten Nights in a Barroom," will be presented. The following well known gentlemen will appear in the cast: Sample Swichel, A. D. Deeton; Simon Slade, Harry Fleischmann; Joe Morgan, Ernest R. Boyer; Frank Slade, Geo. H. Hayden; Harvey Green, Jacob Brill; Mr. Romaine, Dave Robey; Willie Hammond, Frank C. Spinks; Solomon Levi, the peddler, Jonah Bernheimer. Miss Minnie Zimmerman, daughter of Mr. C. H. Zimmerman, will assume the character of Mary Morgan. Prominent lady amateurs of Washington will portray the characters of Mrs. Morgan, Mehitable Cartright and Mrs. Slade. Messrs. Downey, Wenzel, Stoutenburgh and other well known local singers will assist. The orchestra music will be in charge of Mr. Carlton Padgett. The company, under the direction of Mr. E. R. Boyer, is now rehearsing, and the entertainment promises to be one of the best amateur performances ever given in this city. Messrs. J. P. Steiner, F. M. Hill, A. H. Oehlert, T. A. Fisher, L. Woolford, Alton Moore, Louis Brill and other prominent citizens, who are interesting themselves, assure the success of the entertainment. Mr. Ernest R. Boyer, who for the past eighteen or twenty years has arranged and presented amateur entertainments, has won for himself an enviable reputation. The Richmond Times in speaking in complimentary terms of Mr. Boyer, who with Capt. Frank Cunningham, the noted singer, assisted in an entertainment at the opening of the West End Market in that city some years ago, said: "Mr. Ernest Boyer, of Alexandria, delighted the audience with several recitations. He has a powerful voice and is an elocutionist who would make a star actor."

Card of Thanks.

Fifty-Eighth Congress.

Washington, Jan. 31.

SENATE.

When the Senate met today the credentials of Senator-elect Bate, of Tennessee, were presented.

A bill was passed making applicable to express matter the postal regulations relating to the carrying of obscene matter. The measure has already passed the House.

HOUSE.

The House today, on report of the naval affairs committee, adopted the Fitzgerald resolution, calling on the Secretary of the Navy for information as to why there has been a delay in furnishing material for the completion of the battleship Connecticut. Although Mr. Fitzgerald's resolution does not specifically recite the fact, it is aimed at the Armour plate trust, which is said to be favoring private contractors who are building the sister ship Louisiana in the manner of furnishing the required armor plate.

Mr. Hull, chairman of the military affairs committee, moved that the Senate amendments to the military appropriation bill be non-concurred in and that this bill sent to conference.

Mr. Williams, leader of the minority, asked that the House concur in the Senate amendments, excepting General Miles and other resired officers now holding militia assignments from the action of the provision that refuses full pay to retired officers. Mr. Williams fought the provision when it was before the House on the ground that it was an administration snap at General Miles, who has accepted an office with the Massachusetts State militia.

Mr. Slayden said that the military affairs committee was unanimous in its recommendation to non-concur. The committee, he said, did not intend to insult General Miles or any other officer. The committee's stand, he added, was economic and it did not believe that retired officers appointed to militia organizations in the future, should be discriminated against by allowing officers at present holding these assignments to enjoy full pay and allowances.

A yea and nay vote was then had on Mr. Williams' motion to adopt the Senate amendment. It was lost by a vote of 170 to 79.

The bill was then sent to conference and under the rules the House conferees were instructed to hold out against the Senate amendment.

Forty three democrats refused to follow Representative Williams and they voted with the republicans.

Strikers Advancing on Kronstadt.

London, Jan. 31.—A news agency telegram from St. Petersburg states that strikers armed from the Sestovik rifle factory, are advancing across the ice on Kronstadt.

The Seaboard Air Line.

A communication was printed in Richmond yesterday from John Skelton Williams saying that men of large means have consented to supply all the money wanted for financing the Seaboard Air Line under conditions widely differing from those offered by the Ryan-Blair syndicate. These conditions contemplate the ultimate issue of $15,000,000 or $18,000,000 of first preferred stock, as may be provided for, and present preferred stock to be exchanged share for share for new second preferred stock, and the present common stock for share for new common stock.

He says his associates agree to the sale of $5,000,000 with safeguards as to the disbursement, the entire amount to be underwritten by a syndicate of 87½, the syndicate to receive a commission of 2½ per cent on such portion of the $5,000,000 as they may be required to take up. All stockholders are to be given prior right to subscribe pro rata, receiving the same commission. As a condition of the underwriting the new syndicate will require that they be given a majority of the voting trustees and directors if they furnish all the money, or if allowed to furnish but half, they shall be given half the directors and half the voting trustees.

Feeling Against Russia.

Reports of continued acts of hostility to Great Britain and subjects of that country in Russia are causing perplexity and anxiety in official circles in London.

At the Foreign Office there is evident apprehension of another popular anti-Russian outburst there. While diplomats say there is no doubt that full satisfaction will be given for the Warsaw affair, the newspapers are unanimous in condemnation of Russia and attribute all the incidents to anti-British sentiment. At the Foreign Office yesterday it was intimated that these accumulative evidences of hostility, whether accidental or intentional, are causing much apprehension, and that it will be necessary for the Russian government to give full and prompt explanation, otherwise popular sentiment in the United Kingdom might create a serious situation.

It was pointed out that while the injured Vice-Consul at Warsaw, Mucukain, is merely an interpreter and native clerk in the consulate, that fact made no difference and that it would be necessary to prove that the affair was not the result of publication of the objectionable notices concerning which Ambassador Hardinge has protested officially.

Using Bombs in Paris.

A meeting was held in Paris yesterday evening in the Tivoli, Vauxhall, to protest against Russian autocracy. It was under the auspices of the revolutionary socialist groups, and 6,000 persons were present. Deputies Juares, Vaillant and De Pressense spoke. The police were present in strong force. While the audience was making its exit into the Avenue de la Republique a bomb was thrown into the center of the groupe of police and Republican Guards, in which stood Prefect Lepine and other high officials. None of these was hurt, but two guards were wounded and many windows were broken. The bomb was loaded with big-headed boot nails. Two men have been arrested, one of them a law student, in the belief that they were the authors of the crime. The police early yesterday discovered a bomb with a tube attached containing a lighted fuse in front of the house of Prince Troubetskoy, an attache of the Russian Embassy there. The policemen extinguished the fuse and informed the authorities, who are investigating the affair.

Brutally Tortured.

A case came to light that for persistent and unmerciful torture has perhaps never been equaled. Joe Golobick, of Colusa, Calif, writes: "For 15 years I endured insufferable pain from Rheumatism and nothing relieved me though I tried everything known. I came across Electric Bitters and it's the greatest medicine on earth for that trouble. A few bottles of it completely cured me." Just as good for Liver and Kidney troubles and general debility. Only 50c. Satisfaction guaranteed by E. S. Leadbeater & Sons, druggists.

Mr. Wm. S. Crane, of California, Md., suffered for years from rheumatism and lumbago. He was finally advised to try Chamberlain's Pain Balm, which he did and it effected a complete cure. This liniment is for sale by Gibson & Timberman and W. F. Creighton & Co.

All who use Atomizers in treating nasal catarrh will get the best result from Ely's Liquid Cream Balm. Price, including spraying tube, 75 cts. Sold by druggists or mailed by Ely Bros., 56 Warren St., N. Y.

New Orleans, Sept. 1, 1900.

Messrs. ELY BROS.:—I sold two bottles of your Liquid Cream Balm to a customer, Wm. Lamberton, 1415 Delachaise St., New Orleans; he has used the two bottles, giving him wonderful and most satisfactory results.

GEO. W. DUFF, Pharmacist.

No More Stomach Troubles.

All stomach trouble is removed by the use of Kodol Dyspepsia Cure. It gives the stomach perfect rest by digesting what you eat without the stomach's aid. The food builds up the body, the rest restores the stomach to health. You don't have to diet yourself when taking Kodol Dyspepsia Cure. J. D. Erskine, of Allenville, Mich., says, "I suffered Heartburn and Stomach trouble for some time. My sister-in-law has had the same trouble and was not able to eat for six weeks. She lived entirely on warm water. After taking two bottles of Kodol Dyspepsia Cure she was entirely cured. She now eats heartily and is in good health. I am glad to say Kodol gave me instant relief." Sold by all druggists.
